Boosting public innovation

We create networks of public sector innovators

Innovation is never simple, but you can boost it if you know how to structure it. Under the slogan 'Boosting Public Innovation', Ynnovate's mission is to make the public sector innovative. We achieve this through our network of Ynnovators, employees that are trained to lead innovation processes in their own organizations. They all use the Ynnovate method, an innovative way of working together based on the principles of Scrum teamwork, creative problem solving and design thinking.

Ynnovate educates, activates and supports networks of Ynnovators. We started in the Netherlands in 2011 and now have almost 1,500 Ynnovators across every area of the public sector. Ynnovate focuses on new ways to increase public organizations' ability to innovate, starting with the development of innovative skills.

Ynnovate is actively looking for opportunities to create networks of Ynnovators in other countries. We are very happy to share our knowledge and methods. Want to know more? Please visit our website www.letsynnovate.com to read more and feel free to contact Fleur Pullen - fleur@letsynnovate.com
